1940 School Fair

Attendance Down

The rainy weather of the week-end cleared and the sun was shining brightly on Monday when the Crossfield and District School Fair and Calf Club staged their tenth annual exhibition.

Probably owing to the sorry state of the roads, this year's School Fair was not as well attended as in former years. The management reports that the entries were somewhat down which, no doubt, was also caused by bad roads but those exhibited maintained the usual high standard of former years. Taken all around it was a very good fair. A great deal of credit for the success of the Fair is due to the work of the secretary, Mr. Harry May, and the Fair Board in their efforts to carry on in war time.

The Boys' and Girls' Calf Club, held in conjunction with the fair, was more fortunate and enjoyed a good attendance with sixteen nice baby beef on show. These were judged by the well known breeder and judge, Mr. J. C. Yule, and placed in the following order: Rosetta Moore, Norman Simpson, Richard Havens, Douglas Havens, Alex. Simpson, Jack Fairbairn, Helen Cochrane, Loris Walsh, Roy Hehr, Malcolm Leask, Freda Hehr, Donald Leask, Loy Robertson, Walter Landymore, and Leon Robertson. The chief buyers were Burns and Company, and the Swift Canadian Companies, who paid 11 cents per pound for two at top, with the bunch averaging just over 9 cents per pound.

The Central Creameries silver cup for the best dairy type heifer calf was won by Eunice Harrison of Crossfield, while Mary Kinniburgh of Glen Rock was awarded the Pringle Hatcheries prize for obtaining most points in the poultry classes.

Malcolm Leask of West Hope won the silver cup donated by the Alberta Clydesdale Breeders' Association to the boy or girl showing the best foal sired by a registered Clydesdale stallion. Lloyd McCrimmon of Tany-Bryn was awarded second place.

As the list is not completed yet, the winners of the prizes at the School Fair will be published in next week's paper.

The winners in the Picture Contest sponsored by Jesse's Studio for the month of August were as follows: 1st—Frank Mair, who receives a mounted 8x10 oil colored scene made up from his own picture; 2nd—Gary Weimer, a mounted 5x7 enlargement from his own picture; 3rd—Lola Dunningham, a 5x7 glossy enlargement; 4th—Margaret McCaskill, coupon on enlargement.

Mr. Robison was well pleased with the interest taken in the Contest in which there were some fine pictures entered.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Methelal announce the engagement of their daughter, Genevieve, to Private Alfred George Westcott of Lethbridge, who is with the Brass Band of the Royal Winnipeg Rifles. The marriage will take place in October.

Alberta Publishers Feted At "Wonderful Waterton"

When the Alberta division of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association gathered at Waterton National Park on Saturday, August 31, this group picture was snapped by the Herald's cameraman. The convention delegates and their wives were guests of the Lethbridge Herald at a luncheon at the Prince of Wales hotel and it was at the hotel that the picture was taken. Senator Buchanan, host for the luncheon, is shown on the extreme right. The group also enjoyed a cruise to the head of the lakes arranged by the Canadian Rockies Hotel Company, Ltd., operators of the Prince of Wales hotel, who also arranged an interesting Indian powwow featuring Blackfoot Indians from Glacier National Park, Montana. Junior Red Cross Hospital Appeal

The following appeal has been received from D. H. Tomlinson, Commissioner for the Red Cross.

"Our Junior Red Cross Crippled Children's Hospital is very badly in need of potatoes, as the supply is exhausted and we are having to buy them. If any of the members of our Branches would like to donate some to the Hospital, we would be very grateful.

May we ask the Secretaries of our local Branches to make this known to their members, so that all those interested in the work being done by the Red Cross for crippled children may have the opportunity to assist.

If the contributions are shipped by freight and marked "Hospital Supplies Freight Free", we might be able to obtain this privilege from the rail ways.

We are very grateful to all those who have contributed supplies to date for our Hospital, they are most appreciated."

SPECIAL C. P. R. RATES TO THE EAST

The C. P. Railway is offering a special of three classes of tickets to Eastern Canada good for 45 days with stopovers allowed enroute. This special will meet with the approval of many citizens who desire to holiday in eastern Canada. The rates are effective from tomorrow September 13, to September 27. See P. H. Fleming, our local agent for full particulars.

Special services were held in the local churches on Sunday last, in observance of the National Day of Prayer requested by His Majesty the King. Members of the Veterans Volunteer Reserve and Canadian Legion paraded to the Anglican church, where service was conducted by the rector, Rev. A. D. Currie.

The Stop sign at the corner of the Bank of Commerce was knocked down some time ago and has not been replaced. Why not help drivers to keep within the law by replacing the sign?

Is it luck—or knowing how? Charlie Mortimer, Calgary Herald district man, has brought in some lovely fish from out west of here. His latest catch was 13 beauties of the Brown trout species, one weighing four and three-quarter pounds.

One of the finest assets any community could sponsor has been carried on here for the last ten years, known as the School Fair and Calf Club. The work connected with these annual events is considerable, and the men and women who have given unstintingly of their time to make them a success are to be commended. The children, and parents too, play a big part in making up their splendid exhibits in the school department and other departments of the fair.

The Calf Club is carrying on a real work among the younger farm folks, which builds up year-to-year a quota of young people who have a greater knowledge of ways and means of how to develop better beef, stock and show cattle.

Let us hope that the School Fair and Calf Club will continue to have the real backing of citizens of the district so that these splendid organizations can be carried on to even greater success.

"Relieving the suffering of French refugees" says the German caption supplied with this picture. Photo shows leaves being handed out to refugees passing through a French city.

Statement Issued by the Line Elevators Association

Press items accrediting the Hon. J. G. Taggart with the statement that storage space was being provided at some stations in excess of the amount needed to handle the first five-bushel quota are astounding in view of the general lack of storage space throughout the West.

The managements of the various companies have naturally given the fullest consideration to the whole situation with the desire to put such temporary storage at those points where there is the greatest need, — all factors being taken into consideration; i.e., the acreage tributary to the point, the estimated yield, the present elevator storage capacity and (as far as it is known) the farm-storage available.

There is no question that all storage space will eventually be entirely filled, as if additional delivery quotas are not set in the immediate future then any available space can be readily filled with shipments from adjoining points with consequent relief to the general situation. In fact, temporary storage has been built at certain stations with the express purpose of providing for shipments from other stations on direct line of haul.

The distribution of railway cars is completely tied-in with the storage situation and an endeavor is made to give preference in loading to those stations which have the most acute storage problem.

All storage space that the elevator companies are able to build for the use of their customers cannot solve the problem; there will still be a large part of the crop left in the farmers' hands. The most pressing need at the present time is the creation of a method of financing the farmer on the grain that he must of necessity hold on the farm on account of no storage space being available in the immediate future.

The World of Wheat By H. G. L. Strange

Analyses of the thousands of farmers' fields of wheat, just completed by the Crop Testing Plan, reveal that many farmers are losing grades and yield and so losing money, because their grain has become mixed.

In northern areas some farmers are still growing mixtures of low-yielding and low-quality varieties such as Preston, Stanley and Huron, which cannot grade higher than No. 3 Northern.

Then in parts of northern and western Alberta some farmers who changed from Garnet mixed in their crops, and so the grade is lowered.

In central Alberta Golden Ball Durum unfortunately still persists and is seen in some areas mixed with hard Red Spring wheat, causing a serious lowering in grade.

In southern Alberta mixtures of Marquis and of the earlier variety Red Bobs have been noted. Such mixtures, of course, cannot be harvested to the best advantage and so the grain usually contains unripe green Marquis kernels.

Thousands of farmers are losing money by growing these mixtures. All farmers should guard against such losses. This can easily be done by having a sample of the grain they intend to sow tested free by the Crop Testing Plan.

Following factors have tended to raise price: Yugo-Slavia will prohibit exports of wheat and corn and will need to import some 4 million bushels of wheat — Portugal recently purchased 2 cargoes of Canadian wheat — Authorities consider there will be a shortage of foodstuffs in Europe by this coming spring.

Following factors have tended to lower price: Turkey is making her surplus wheat, barley and rye available to European countries — Hungarian corn crop estimated at 30 million bushels larger than last year — Wheat harvest in Great Britain is expected to be larger than last year — Hitler demands that every available acre in Europe shall be prepared to grow grain.

stark realizations of modern warfare. This expansion in Canada's fighting forces and in her industrial life was strikingly brought out by Colonel the Hon. J. L. Ralston Minister of National Defence, speaking recently at a luncheon meeting of the Canadian Club in Montreal.

Adopting a THEN and NOW theme, Col. Ralston described in detail the great strides made by Canada in the Army, the Air Force, the Navy and Industry during the first year of war. Salient points of the year's review are summarized as follows:

THE ARMY

Then Canada had 4,500 troops available for service in Canada and overseas. Now the Canadian Active Service Force numbers over 155,000.

Then there were no troops outside Canada. Now the C.A.S.F. is in England, in numbers equal to nearly three divisions, or about 40,000, in Iceland, Newfoundland and in the Caribbean. Over 100,000 are available in Canada for service anywhere. In addition 60,000 will train with the Non Permanent Active Militia. About 300,000 men will receive 30 days of training each year in 13 militia training centres.

Then no provisions had been made for home guard. Now the Veterans Guard of Canada counts 29 companies.

THE NAVY

Last September the Navy had 1,790 officers and men. Now it has about 10,000.

Then the Navy had 15 ships. Now it has 113, with 100 more being built. Four destroyers are in service with the British Navy.

The Canadian Navy is doing most useful and effective service in connection with convoys. These are organized by the Canadian Naval Service and their ships form a substantial part of the escort. About 2,500 ships have been convoyed during the year, bringing troops, food and munitions to the British Isles, without the loss of a man, a gun or any part of the munitions.

THE AIR FORCE

Last September there were 4,000 officers and men in the Royal Canadian Air Force. Now there are about 25,000. Three R.C.A.F. squadrons are fighting side by side with the R.A.F. in Great Britain, with a fourth squadron in the R.A.F. composed entirely of Canadians.

The R.C.A.F. is doing a difficult job well in administering the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan. At present at about 75 different locations across Canada, initial training schools, elementary schools, bombing and gunnery schools, wireless schools and advanced training schools are in operation or springing up almost overnight with airfields to match.

INDUSTRY

Canada has a production of 4,000 planes a year in sight and plans for increasing that figure. Tank production has been initiated to a total of orders of $63,000,000. Bren gun production has been doubled, 14 plants are producing shells and orders for components of these munitions are being filled.

"By advertising."

Huge Expansion Seen In Canada in First Year Of War

Twelve months ago Canada went to war. During these months a peace-loving people forgot about its peace-time pursuits to concentrate on the war task at hand, a task that was accelerated tremendously as shocking events overseas brought home to Canadians the

Among the guns registered locally was an old one brought in by a party southwest of town. It was a double-barrelled, muzzle-loading rifle, with one barrel above the other. One was a "12-pounder", an old muzzle loading buffalo gun, another a gun used in the Custer massacre in Montana by the Indians of Sitting Bull, and several rifles used in the Riel Rebellion of 1885.

Watch Dogs of the Sky

Day after day in fair weather or foul, these giant "Stranraer" flying boats of the Royal Canadian Air Force patrol the vast stretches of ocean on Canada's eastern coast. Flying hundreds of miles out to sea, they are the eyes not only of the coastal defence but also of the vital convoys they help to shepherd through Canadian waters. The picture shows one of the big boats taking off on a patrol over the Atlantic.
